SHORT BUT SWEET: A woman telephoned a friend and asked how she was feeling, "Terrible," came the reply, "my head's splitting and my back and legs are killing me. The house is a mess, and the kids are simply driving me crazy." Very sympathetically the caller said, "Listen, go and lie down, I'll come over right away and cook lunch for you, clean up the house, and take care of the children while you get some rest. By the way, how is Sam?" "Sam?" the complaining housewife gasped. "Who is Sam?" "My heavens," exclaimed the first woman, "I must have dialed the wrong number." There was a long pause. "Are you still coming over?" the harried mother asked.

SOME THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK:

"Temptation usually comes in through a door that has been deliberately left open." A Glasgow

"Despite how open, peaceful, and loving you attempt to be, people can only meet you as deeply as they have met themselves." M Kahn

"Once you've accepted your flaws no one can use them against you." Tyrion Lannister

"People are always talking about the old days. They say that the old movies were better, that the old actors were so great. But I don't think so. All I can say about the old days is that they have passed." Kirk Douglas

"A single conversation across the table with a wise man is better than ten years mere study of books." Henry Longfellow

"Values are like fingerprints. Nobody's are the same, but you leave them all over everything you do." Elvis Presley

"At one time I smoked, but in 1959 I couldn't think of anything else to give up for lent so I stopped it and I haven't had a cigarette since." Ethel Merman
