DAY DREAMS

Once a day and sometimes more
 You knock upon my daydream door.
 And I say warmly, 'come right in
 I'm glad you're here with me again'
 Then we sit down and have a chat,
 Recalling this, discussing that,
 Until some task that I must do
 Forces me away from you.
 Reluctantly I say good-bye
 Smiling with a little sigh,
 For though my daydreams bring you near
 I wish that you were really here.
 But what reality can not change
 My dreams and wishes can arrange.
 An through my wishing you'd be brought
 To me each day, a guest in thought.

SHORT BUT SWEET:

A lady's husband had heart surgery and she received a letter saying her husband inherited one million euro. She was worried about her husband's health so she called her local priest and asked him to tell the good news to her husband. The priest said to her husband, 'Joe, if you were to get one million euro, what would you do with it?' Joe responded 'Why Father, I'd give it to you!' The priest died of a heart attack

SOME THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK:

'Good judgement comes from experience and a lot of that comes from bad judgement'

Will Rogers

'A man with his feeling hurt is the worst thing in the world.'

Tiq Milan.

'People often say that this or that person has not yet found himself. But the self is not something one finds, it is something one created.'

Thomas Szasz

'If it doesn't challenge you, it doesn't change you'

Zig Ziglar

'You don't really know who you are until you've faced real adversity'

Dan Gaspary

'We don't make mistakes, just happy little accidents'

Bob Ross

'If you are willing to look at another person's behaviour towards you as a reflection of the state of their reflection with themselves rather than a statement about your value as a person. Then you will over time cease to react at all'

Yogi Bajan

'Make failure your teacher, not your undertaker'

Zig Zagler

'You are responsible for your life. You can't keep blaming somebody else for your dysfunction'
 Life is about moving on
Oprah Winfrey
