SHORT BUT SWEET:

A father is asked by his friend, "Has your son decided what he wants to be when he grows up?" "Yes, he wants to be a garbage collector," replied the boy's father. His friend thought for a moment and responded, "That's a rather strange ambition to have for a career." "Well," said the boy's father, "he thinks that garbage collectors only work on Mondays!"

SOME THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK:

"We don't inherit the earth from our ancestors, we borrow it from our children." David Brower

"Do you think that I count the days? There is only one day left, always starting over: it is given to us at dawn and taken away from us at dusk." Jean Paul Sartre

"When I remember that a large problem can be broken into small ones, calm and efficiency return." Sanjoy Mahajan

"Good physical health is essential to any occupation. A person who is physically fit performs better at any job. Fatigue makes cowards of us all." Vincent Lombardi

"Chains do not hold a marriage together. It is threads, hundreds of tiny threads which sew people together through the years." Simone Signoret

"I had occasion to visit the city shelter last month where homeless families are cared for. I sat there for a couple of hours, contemplating poverty and destitution." Dorothy Day

"Life is like a ten - speed bicycle. Most of us have gears we never use." Charles Schulz
