SHORT BUT SWEET:

While on a road trip, an elderly couple stopped at a roadside restaurant for lunch. After finishing their meal, they left the restaurant and resumed their trip. When leaving, the elderly woman unknowingly left her glasses on the table and she didn't miss them until they had been driving about twenty minutes. By then, to add to the aggravation, they had to travel quite a distance before they could find a place to turn around, in order to return to the restaurant to retrieve her glasses. All the way back, the elderly husband became the classic grouchy old man. He fussed and complained and scolded his wife relentlessly during the entire return drive. The more he chided her, the more agitated he became. He just wouldn't let up one minute. To her relief, they finally arrived at the restaurant. As the woman got out of the car and hurried inside to retrieve her glasses, her husband yelled to her, 'While you're in there, you might as well get my hat and the credit card'

SOME THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK:

"Our life is full of brokenness - broken relationships, broken promises, broken expectations. How can we live with that brokenness without becoming bitter and resentful except by returning again and again to God's faithful presence in our lives."

Henri Nouwen

"We see aging as a time of life, just like childhood, young adulthood, and middle age. It has its own puzzles in need of reflection. It has unique pleasures and joys, as well as pains."

Martha Nussbaum

"Do not weep for I shall be more useful to you after my death and I shall help you then more effectively than during my life."

St. Dominic

"Of all the paths you take in life, make sure a few of them are dirt."

John Muir

"Just because you fell down yesterday doesn't mean that you cannot get up today."

Inder Arora

"Middle age: becoming like our parents while fighting with our children."

Elliot Priest

"Why criticise someone when you can show how it can be done."

Sandeep Sharma

"Jesus spent His whole life engaging with people most of us have spent our whole lives trying to avoid."

Bob Goff

"Tears are not the mark of weakness, but of power. They are messengers of overwhelming grief and of unspeakable love."

Washington Irving

"Before you argue with someone, ask yourself, is that person even mentally mature enough to grasp the concept of different perspectives? Because if not, there's absolutely no point."

Amber Veal
